Dear Colleague:

The situation you currently face is without a doubt one of the most discouraging anyone can experience. It is an emotionally devastating experience to be told that you are losing your job through no fault of your own.

This booklet has been prepared by the Legal Department of the California Teachers Association to help you through this difficult time by letting you know the legal framework that governs layoffs and non-disciplinary terminations under California law. In addition, this booklet provides an overview of your rights to rehire and unemployment as well as your rights under the so-called federal “COBRA” law to maintain your current health coverage following your termination. Of course, the information in this booklet is necessarily presented in summary form. For more detailed information applicable to your particular situation, please contact your CTA chapter or CTA representative.

Be assured that while you are coping with this difficult situation, CTA will continue to fight for you. We will work tirelessly to restore budget cuts made to schools and we will continue our fight for the adequate funding necessary so that our schools can provide the top quality education that our students deserve.

We hope that you weather this storm quickly and that, with the help of this information, you will soon be on your way back into a classroom or school site in California. We look forward to the day when you and the other dedicated professionals who have fallen victim to these trying economic times return. In the meantime, know that CTA and your local union will continue to do our part to assure that result.

Sincerely,

WHEN CAN A SCHOOL OR COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT LAY YOU OFF?

IT'S NOT YOUR FAULT. Through no fault of your own, you are suddenly facing possible unemployment. Knowing there wasn't enough state money to go around does not make it any easier when you and your family's finances are at stake. There is help out there; you will have a job again and the economy will rebound. But right now you have to take action to ensure that you do everything possible to ease the fear and burden of unemployment. Take a deep breath, and we'll walk you through how the layoff and termination process works under California law and explain the rights that you enjoy to rehire, unemployment, and health insurance coverage, should you lose your job. Because certificated employees, education support professionals and community college faculty members have different rights under California law in the layoff and termination process, the following summarizes the law applicable to each different group of educational employees.

Certificated Employees.

1. Permanent and Probationary Teachers.

If you are a permanent or probationary teacher, you can be laid off if the school board determines that economic circumstances require decreasing the number of permanent employees. The board can identify a particular kind of service (such as a course or program) that will be reduced or discontinued, or base the layoffs on either a drop in the district's average daily attendance ("ADA") or a state law modifying the curriculum. You must be either personally given, or sent by registered mail, written notice that you are on the district's proposed layoff list by March 15th. Educ. Code Sec. 44955(c).

IMPORTANT NOTE – if you are a probationary employee and the district is terminating you due to economic circumstances, it must give you the notice described above and follow the full March 15th layoff procedure described at page 8. It cannot simply give you a notice of non-reelection. Cousins v. Weaverville Elementary SD (1994) 24 Cal.App.4th 1846, 30 Cal.Rptr.2d 310. The district can, however, give you a layoff notice and then, subsequently, give you a notice of non-reelection for reasons unrelated to the economic circumstances on which the layoff was based. CTA v. Mendocino USD (2001) 92 Cal.App.4th 522, 111 Cal.Rptr.2d 879.

A district can also lay off permanent and probationary teachers during the time period after the state legislature approves the budget and August 15th, if the board determines that its total revenue limit per unit of ADA has not increased by at least 2% and that it is necessary to decrease the number of permanent employees. Educ. Code Sec. 44955.5. CTA does not believe that a district may avoid the specific March 15th layoff procedure by waiting until after March 15th to notice teachers for layoff on the ground that the legislature's anticipated approval of the budget later this spring will reopen the layoff window any time up until August 15th.

2. Teachers Employed in a Categorical Program.

If you work in a categorically-funded program and two conditions are met — first, that you were hired for the term of the categorically-funded program or project; and second, that the program contract or project funding has expired — you may be a temporary employee, and the school district may release you at the expiration of the contract or project. However, if you work in a categorically-funded program and the two conditions listed above are not met, you are entitled to participate in the March 15th RIF procedure that applies to permanent and probationary employees, and the school district must provide you with a notice and hearing as described in this guide. In addition, if you were classified as a permanent or probationary teacher before being assigned to a categorically funded program, you must be transferred to another position or laid off pursuant to the March 15th RIF procedure regardless of whether or not categorical funding or the contract has been terminated.

3. Temporary Teachers.

If you are a temporary teacher, you may be dismissed at any time prior to serving 75% of the school year. Educ. Code Sec. 44954(a). After that point, a school district may release you only by providing you a release notice by the end of the school year indicating that you will not be reemployed for the next school year. Educ. Code Sec. 44954(b). Temporary teachers are not entitled by statute to a hearing when they are terminated.

Many districts misclassify teachers as temporary employees. As a general rule, you should only be classified as a temporary employee if you have been hired for one of the following reasons:

- to replace a permanent or probationary teacher on long term leave. Educ. Code Sec. 44920;
- to teach a class or perform duties that will not last for more than the first three months of any school term. Educ. Code Sec. 44919(a);
- to teach special adult classes or in a school for migrant populations for no more than four months of the school term. Id.
- to serve in limited coaching assignments. Educ. Code Sec. 44919(b);

- to teach one semester only in anticipation of a reduction in student enrollment. Educ. Code Sec. 44921.
- to teach for no more than 20 days due to an emergency. Educ. Code Sec. 44919(c).
- to provide services in a non-mandatory categorically-funded program or project, where you were hired for the term of the program or project, and the program contract or project funding has expired. Educ. Code Sec. 44909.

If you are employed in one of these assignments for more than the specific time period described above, you are automatically reclassified by law as a probationary employee and your prior “temporary” service must count as probationary service. Educ. Code Secs. 44919(a) & 44921. If you are employed in another assignment you cannot be classified as a “temporary” employee even if you do not yet have a “preliminary” or “clear” credential because, for example, you are working under an emergency permit, waiver or intern credentials.

IMPORTANT NOTE – if you are hired for one of these temporary assignments and the District does not provide you with a written notification that your employment is temporary on or before your first date of paid services, and in July of every year thereafter, you are automatically classified by law as a probationary employee. Educ. Code Sec. 44916.

4. Substitute Teachers.

If you are a substitute teacher, you may be released at any time by the school board. Educ. Code Sec. 44953. Substitutes are not entitled by statute to a hearing when they are terminated.

5. Child Development Teachers.

Child development teachers may be laid off at any time during the school year, and a school district laying off child development teachers is not required to meet the same deadlines it must meet when laying off K-12 teachers. Moreover, child development teachers do not have the right to a reduction in force hearing.

Child development teachers do have some rights in the layoff context. The Education Code mandates that child development teachers be laid off in reverse seniority order, and that no permanent employee may be laid off while a probationary employee is retained. Permanent child development teachers have rehire rights for a period of 39 months from the date of layoff.

6. Adult Education Teachers.

Permanent adult education teachers are entitled to the same layoff procedures as K-12 teachers, including a notice of layoff, a layoff hearing, and re-hire rights. An adult education teacher receives permanent status for the average number of hours per week that he or she has served during his or her probationary years.

Classified Employees.

If you are a classified employee, you may be laid off in the following circumstances:

1. You work in a specially funded program, which has expired. Your employer must give you written notice at least 60 days prior to the effective date of your layoff.
2. You work in a department that is being reduced or eliminated due to lack of work or lack of funds. If the governing board of your employing school district determines that your services will not be required for the following school year due to lack of work or lack of funds, your employer must give you notice of layoff by March 15.

Permanent classified employees who are laid off due to lack of work or lack of funds have the right to request a hearing regarding their layoff. The district must then follow the timeline described in the chart beginning at page 8 of this guide.

NOTE – Substitute and short-term employees, who are employed and paid for less than 75% of a school year, are not subject to these layoff procedures and may be terminated at any time.

Community College Academic Employees.

If you are a tenured (regular) or probationary (contract) full time academic employee (faculty member) of a community college, you may be laid off if the governing board decides to reduce or discontinue a particular kind of service (e.g., a course or program) or determines that a reduction in tenured employees is necessary due to a decline in ADA over the first six months of the year below the level in either of the prior two years. Educ. Code Sec. 87743. You must be either personally given, or sent by registered mail, written notice that you are on the district's proposed layoff list by March 15th. Educ. Code Sec. 87740.

WHAT SHOULD YOU DO IF YOU RECEIVE A LAYOFF NOTICE?

If you have received a layoff notice, and haven't yet done so, contact your CTA chapter right away. If you are a member they will be able to advise you regarding the steps you should take to ensure that your rights are protected during the layoff process.

In addition, because layoffs must be in reverse seniority order, below are some steps you can take to help with your representation in the layoff process.

Certificated Employees.

1. Figure out your seniority date and collect the documents you need to prove up that date if need be. The general rule is that your seniority date is your first day of paid service as a probationary employee ("PROB"). There are three important exceptions:

- (a) Your prior year of service as a temporary or substitute teacher will count as your first year of service as a PROB if you served as a temporary or substitute teacher for at least 75% of the school year and you were reelected to fill a vacant position the next year. Educ. Code Sec. 44917, 44918(a). For example, if you worked 75% of the 2008-09 school year as a temporary or substitute teacher, and were reelected to fill a vacant position the next year your seniority date would be your first day of paid service in the 2008-09 school year.
- (b) Your prior year of service in a categorical position will count as your first year of service as a PROB if you served in the categorical position for at least 75% of the school year and were subsequently employed by the district as a PROB in a position requiring certification. Educ. Code Sec. 44909. So, if you worked 75% of the 2008-09 school year in a categorical position, and were employed the next year by the district as a PROB, your seniority date would be your first day of paid service in the 2008-09 school year.

- (c) Remember that your first day of paid service may NOT be the first day of school. If you were paid and directed to attend an in-service day before school, that day may count as your first paid day of service. Conversely, if you did not start work until after school started, your first paid day of service will be the day you actually started working for pay, not the day that school started.

2. Make sure that ALL of your credentials and certifications are on file with the school district especially certifications to teach English language learners. If you hold a credential or certification, but it is not on file with the district by March 15th, you will not be credited with that credential or certification in the RIF hearing. Some districts try to argue that an even earlier date serves as the cutoff point, so it is important to get your credentials and certifications on file as soon as you can. If you need to check on your credentials, look them up on the CTC website at <https://www.ctc.ca.gov/credentials>.

3. Fill out the attached questionnaire (in Appendix, CTA form # 3) regarding your prior service credentials and certifications to facilitate your representation in the RIF process.

4. If you receive a layoff notice, contact your CTA Chapter right away. In addition, fill out and hand in to the District a request for hearing. A sample of such a request is appended at the end of this booklet, but check with your CTA representative before you use it, in case he or she is advising members to use a different form. The hearing request form must be received by the District within 7 days of the date of your layoff notice unless the layoff notice specifies a later date. Make sure to keep a date-stamped copy of the notice for your records.

Classified Employees

1. Check with your CTA representative to find out how your district defines your length of service in your class – by hire date or by hours of work (excluding overtime). Educ. Code Sec. 45308. Once you know how seniority is measured, figure out your hire date or hours of work so that you can make sure you are not being laid off before less senior employees in your class.

2. Check to make sure your personnel file accurately reflects all positions you have held with the district and the dates when you held those positions. Also, make sure that the file contains any documents that show you are competent to hold your current position or positions outside your class, such as a nursing certification.

3. If you receive a layoff notice, contact your CTA Chapter right away. In addition, if you are a permanent classified employee, fill out and hand in to the District a request for hearing. A sample of such a request is appended at the end of this booklet, but check with your CTA representative before you use it, in case the representative is advising members to use a different form. The hearing request form must be received by the District within 7 days of the date of your layoff notice unless the layoff notice specifies a later date. Make sure to keep a date-stamped copy of the notice for your records.

Community College Academic Employees (Regular or Tenured & Contract Employees).

1. Figure out your seniority date and collect the documents you need to prove up that date if need be. The general rule is that your seniority date is your first day of paid service as a contract (probationary) employee. Educ. Code Sec. 87414. Remember college districts must maintain the “order of employment” (seniority list) of academic employees and must make the list available upon request. Educ. Code Sec. 87415. This can help you double check the district’s records against your own.

2. Make sure that the district records reflect all of your qualifications to instruct in different faculty service areas.

WHAT IS THE MARCH 15TH LAYOFF PROCEDURE?

The Key Dates in the March 15th Lay off Process.

If you are a permanent or probationary certificated employee of a school district, a tenured or contract employee of a community college, or a permanent classified employee of a school district, and you receive a notice this spring that you are on the list of employees subject to layoff, the following procedure and timeline will govern the layoff process.

Event	Date	Explanation
Layoff Notice	March 15th	You will receive an individual notice stating that the District intends to lay you off. The notice must be written and either personally given to you or mailed to you by registered mail by March 15 th .
Request for a Hearing	Must be served on the District within 7 Days After Receiving Layoff Notice or Another (Later) Date Specified in Layoff Notice	The layoff notice will ask if you want a hearing. You DO! To get one fill out the attached Request for a Hearing form or the form provided by your CTA representative and hand it in to the District within 7 days of receiving your layoff notice (unless a later date is specified in the layoff notice). Take two copies with you when you hand the form in and ask the District to date stamp one of them for you to keep for your records.
District Statement of Reduction in Force	You will receive this after you request a hearing.	After you serve your request for hearing, the district will respond by serving you with a document called a “District Statement of Reduction in Force.”

Event	Date	Explanation
Notice of Participation	Within 5 days of Service of District Statement of Reduction in Force	As soon as you receive the District Statement of Reduction in Force, fill out the attached Notice of Participation and give it to the District (again, making sure that you keep a date stamped copy for yourself). Your chapter or representative may ask you to fill out a different Notice of Participation form instead, in which case you should follow their instructions. Make sure that your Notice of Participation is received by the district within 5 days of your receipt of the District Statement of Reduction in Force.
Time and Place of Hearing	N/A	A trial type hearing will be held before an administrative law judge (“ALJ”) over the district’s proposed layoff list. Your CTA representative will tell you when and where the hearing will be.
ALJ’s Proposed Decision	No Later than May 7 th	The ALJ who presided over the trial must give his or her proposed decision to the governing board and employees by May 7 th .
Notice of Final Decision by Board	No Later than May 15 th	The governing board has until May 15 th to review the ALJ’s decision and issue its decision including its final layoff notices to employees. The final layoff notices can be served personally or by registered mail.
Subsequent Court Review		In rare instances, the governing board’s decision can be challenged in court by way of a Petition for Writ of Administrative Mandate.

The Issues that Must be Resolved in the RIF Process.

As a general rule, layoffs must be in reverse order of seniority – “last hired, first fired.” One of the key issues that must be resolved in the March 15th RIF process is whether or not the district layoff list is in the correct order. That is why it is so important for you to figure out your seniority date so you can make sure that the district has the correct date.

1. “Skipping” and “Bumping” Issues for Certificated Employees.

You may have the right to “bump” a junior employee who is retained to render a service that you are both “certificated and competent” to provide. Educ. Code Sec. 44955. If you seek to teach a subject that you have not previously taught and for which you are not credentialed or which was not your major area of post-secondary study, the school district will require you to pass a subject matter competency test before assigning you to teach that subject. Id.

If you have the same seniority date as another employee, the school district will decide how to rank you on the layoff list based on criteria it chooses reflecting “the needs of the district and the students thereof.” Educ. Code Sec. 44955(b). The district must provide you or your representative, upon request, with the criteria it is using for this purpose and its application in ranking you among other employees with the same seniority date.

The district may also deviate from the order of seniority if the district demonstrates “a specific need for personnel to teach a specific course or course of study” and that the more junior employee “has special training and experience necessary to teach that course or course of study.” Educ. Code Sec. 44955(d). That is why it is so important that you carefully and completely fill out the RIF questionnaire (attached in Appendix 1) so that your representative in the RIF process can determine, if the district attempts to skip you on this basis, whether or not the district’s “skip” is vulnerable to a strong challenge.

2. “Bumping” Rights for Tenured and Contract Community College Academic Employees.

If you are a tenured academic employee, you may have the right to “bump” a junior academic employee (tenured or contract) who works in a faculty service area for which you possess the minimum qualifications and meet any established competency criteria to teach. Educ. Code Sec. 87743-87743.5.

If you are a contract academic employee, you may have the right to bump junior contract employees who work in a faculty service area for which you possess the minimum qualifications and meet any established competency criteria. Educ. Code Sec. 87743-87743.5. Remember your competency criteria are subject to negotiation with the union representing academic employees. Educ. Code Sec. 87743.5

3. “Bumping” Rights for Classified Employees.

If you are a permanent classified employee, you may have the right to “bump” a junior employee who performs the same class of service as you or who performs another class of service that the district records reflect you are qualified to perform. If you believe you should be allowed to bump, contact your CTA representative about the issue.

WHAT ARE YOUR REHIRE AND OTHER RIGHTS IF YOU ARE LAID OFF?

Permanent Teachers – Rehire, Substitute & Leave Transfer Rights.

1. Rehire Right – You have the right to be rehired in order of seniority if, at any time within 39 months of the layoff, the number of employees is increased or the service that was discontinued leading to your layoff is re-established. Educ. Code Sec. 44956(a). If you seek to teach a subject you have not previously taught, and for which you do not have a teaching credential or in which you did not major, you must pass a subject matter competency test in the appropriate subject. Educ. Code Sec. 44956(a)(1).

- The district may refuse to rehire in seniority order if it demonstrates a specific need for personnel to teach a specific course or course of study, and shows that the more junior employee has special training and experience necessary to teach that course or course of study, which the more senior employee does not possess. Educ. Code Sec. 44956(a)(3)(A).
- If you are rehired, the period of the layoff will not be considered a break in service, but neither shall it count towards STRS credit. Educ. Code Sec. 44956(a)(4). At any time prior to the completion of your first year of service after rehire, you can continue, or make up, your contributions to STRS for the period during which you were laid-off, but neither the state nor district is obliged to match those contributions. Educ. Code Sec. 44956(a)(7). If you reach retirement age or become disabled before you are rehired, you are entitled to receive all retirement or disability benefits that you would have received while employed. Educ. Code Sec. 44956(a)(8).
- You may waive your rehire rights for a period of up to a year (meaning that you can ask to be passed over when the district makes rehire offers) without losing the right to subsequent offers of rehire. Educ. Code Sec. 44956(a)(2).

2. Substitute Right – You have the right to temporary and substitute positions, again in order of seniority, while you are waiting to be rehired into a permanent position. Educ. Code Sec. 44956(a)(5). If you substitute teach 21 days or more in a 60 day period, your pay shall be no less than if you had been reappointed to a permanent position. Educ. Code Sec. 44956(a)(5).

3. Leave Transfer Right – If you obtain employment in another school district, you can transfer your accrued sick leave from your prior district by providing your current district with written notice that you would like to transfer your accrued sick leave together with the name and address of your former district. Educ. Code. Sec 44979.

Probationary Teachers – Rehire, Substitute and Leave Transfer Rights.

1. Rehire Right – You have the right to be rehired in order of seniority if, at any time within 24 months of the layoff, the number of employees is increased or the service that was discontinued leading to your layoff is re-established. Educ. Code Sec. 44957(a). If you seek to teach a subject you have not previously taught, and for which you do not have a teaching credential or in which you did not major, you must pass a subject matter competency test in the appropriate subject. Educ. Code Sec. 44957(a).

- The district may refuse to rehire in seniority order if it demonstrates a specific need for personnel to teach a specific course or course of study, and shows that the more junior employee has special training and experience necessary to teach that course or course of study, which the more senior employee does not possess. Educ. Code Sec. 44957(b)(1).
- If you are rehired the period of the layoff will not be considered a break in service, but neither shall it count towards STRS credit. Educ. Code Sec. 44957(c). At any time prior to the completion of your first year of service after rehire, you can continue, or make up, your own and the district's contributions to STRS for the period during which you were laid off. Educ. Code Sec. 44957(e).

2. Substitute Right – You have the right to temporary and substitute positions, again in order of seniority, while you are waiting to be rehired into a permanent position. Educ. Code Sec. 44957(d).

3. Leave Transfer Right – If you obtain employment in another school district, you can transfer your accrued sick leave from your prior district by providing your current district with written notice that you would like to do so together with the name and address of your former district. Educ. Code Sec. 44979.

Classified Employees.

1. Rehire right –You are eligible for reemployment for 39 months and have the right to be reemployed in preference to new applicants. Educ. Code Sec. 45298. You also have the right to participate in promotional exams in the district for a prior of 39 months. Educ. Code Sec. 45298.

Reemployment is determined in the reverse order of layoff, which is usually determined by hours of paid service in your classification in your district unless your collective bargaining agreement defines the phrase “length of service” differently. Educ. Code Sec. 45308. In the past, districts have rehired employees only into the classification that the employee originally held. A recent Court of Appeal decision, however, rejects this approach and holds that Educ. Code Sec. 45298 requires a district to give preference to a laid-off employee for any position for which he/she is qualified. Contact your chapter for further guidance if you believe that you are qualified to be rehired into a particular position and the district refuses to rehire you.

- Note hours of service includes hours in paid status, whether during the school year, a holiday, recess, or during any period that a school is in session or closed, but does not include overtime hours or hours served prior to entering into probationary or permanent status except for service in certain restricted positions. Educ. Code Sec. 45308. A district may also, but is not required, to grant “length of service” credit for time spent on unpaid illness leave, unpaid maternity leave, unpaid family care leave, or unpaid industrial accident leave. Educ. Code Sec. 45308. Length of service credit is granted for military leave. Id.
- Note for districts with an ADA of more than 400,000. After January 1, 1986, "length of service" is determined by the date of hire. Educ. Code Sec. 45308.

2. Voluntary Demotion or Reduction in Hours – If you take a demotion or a reduction in hours in lieu of a layoff, you are entitled to the same rehire rights as laid-off employees. Educ. Code Sec. 45298. As vacancies become available, voluntarily reduced/demoted employees have a right to return to a position in their former class or to positions with increased assigned time. If there is a valid reemployment list, you will be ranked on the reemployment list in seniority order according to your length of service. Educ. Code Sec. 45308.

The Personnel Commission may, but is not required to, grant you an additional period of rehire rights up to a maximum of 24 months beyond the original 39 months, if the fitness test for your classification has not changed. Educ. Code Sec. 45298.

Community College Academic Employees

1. Regular employees.

- (a) Rehire Rights – You have a 39-month rehire right unless you retire in the meantime. Regular employees stand before contract employees in the right to rehire. Educ. Code Sec. 87744(a). The rehire right extends to all positions that you are qualified and competent to render.
- For one college year after the layoff, you may waive the right to reappointment to any particular positions without waiving the right to appointment to the next position. The board can extend the right to waive reappointment beyond one year. Educ. Code Sec. 87744(b).
 - If you are rehired, the period of the layoff will be treated as a leave of absence, and not as a break in service. You will retain the classification and order of employment you had when you were terminated. Educ. Code Sec. 87744(c)
 - The fact that you have been laid off does not affect qualifications for retirement under state and local retirement systems. However, the time away from service does not count as part of the computation of credit toward retirement. Educ. Code Sec. 87744(c).
 - Upon reappointment, you may continue to make up, with interest, your own contributions to the state or district retirement system. These make-up contributions can be made for up to one year after reinstatement. The district does not have any matching obligation. Educ. Code Sec. 87744(e).
 - If you reach mandatory retirement age or become disabled prior to your return to service, you are entitled to all of the benefits you would have received if the retirement occurred before the layoff. You will also receive any benefits you would have qualified for if you had been employed. Educ. Code Sec. 87744(f).
- (b) Right to Temporary Positions – During the 39-month rehire period, you are entitled to temporary positions in seniority order. Your temporary services can be terminated upon the return to duty of the absent employee. You will receive the same rate of pay you would receive if you had been reappointed. Taking a temporary position will have no affect on your classification and rights. Educ. Code Sec. 87744 (d).

2. Contract Employees.

- (a) Rehire Rights – Unless you retire in the meantime, as a contract employee you have a 24-month right to be rehired in order of seniority. Contract employees stand behind regular employees in the right to rehire. Educ. Code Sec. 87744(a). This rehire right extends to all positions for which you are qualified and competent to render. Educ. Code Sec. 87745(a).
- Upon reappointment, the period of your absence shall not constitute a break in service. You retain the classification and order of employment that you had at the time of the layoff. The time of your layoff will not be computed toward service required for attaining regular status. Educ. Code Sec. 87745(b).
 - Upon reappointment, you may continue to make up with interest your own contributions to the state or district retirement system. These make-up contributions can be made for up to one year after your reinstatement. If you elect to make this contribution, you shall pay into the system your share and the district share, and the amount of any contributions withdrawn, plus interest. Educ. Code Sec. 87745(d).
- (b) Right to Temporary Positions – During the 39-month rehire period, you are entitled to temporary positions in seniority order, behind regular employees. Your temporary services can be terminated upon the return to duty of the absent employee. You will receive the same rate of pay you would receive if you had been reappointed. Taking a temporary position will have no affect on your classification and rights. Educ. Code Sec. 87745(c).

Maintaining Your Health Insurance

As a general rule, if you are laid off, your health insurance coverage will continue through August 31st if you worked the entire school year. You should check, however, with your CTA chapter to confirm the date that your health insurance coverage will terminate. After that date, if your school district has more than 20 employees, you can choose to continue your health insurance coverage for up to 18 months under the federal COBRA Act. If your school district has fewer than 20 employees, you may be able to continue your health insurance under California's mini-COBRA Act.

1. Notice of, and Nature of, COBRA Rights.

Within 90 days of your termination from employment or of a reduction in hours of employment resulting in you losing employer paid health coverage, the District must notify you of your right to continue your health coverage under COBRA. Your right is to continue the same health insurance coverage that you had as an employee, including any coverage you carried for your spouse or dependents. You are obligated, however, to pay for some (in the case of involuntary terminations) or all (in the case of voluntary terminations) of the premiums to maintain coverage. Even if you choose not to continue your health coverage, you may elect to continue health care coverage for your children and/or your spouse may elect to continue coverage.

2. Premium Amounts following Layoff.

If you are voluntarily terminated, you may choose to maintain your health insurance coverage for up to 18 months by paying the full premium due (which may be no more than 102% of the premium the plan pays for non-COBRA participants).

3. When, and to Whom, Must the Premium Be Paid?

You must pay the premium to the plan. Check with your CTA chapter to find out where the premium must be sent. Your first premium payment must be received by the plan within 45 days of your election of COBRA benefits. Your subsequent payments must be received within 30 days of the due dates set by the plan for premium payments. Make sure to make your premium payments on time. A plan can terminate your COBRA coverage if your payments are not received before the end of the 30 day grace period.

Maintaining Your CTA Membership

CTA members who are laid off can maintain their membership, and thereby continue to enjoy the benefits of CTA representation including covered legal representation through the Group Legal Services program and the benefits you receive through the CTA endorsed credit union, insurance and discount programs, by paying Category 3A dues, which are approximately one quarter of the dues paid by full time members.

To maintain your membership, contact your CTA Chapter to find out the local dues amount and how, and when, you should pay your dues. You can also contact CTA Membership for information at 650-552-5278 or membership@cta.org. As a general rule, dues are paid for the full year and must be received by your chapter by October 31st. Please note that if you work 25% or more as a substitute or temporary, your dues status will change and you should contact your local and/or CTA to make any necessary adjustments in your dues payments.
